1. BACKGROUND:

Bank's Policy on Record retention was last reviewed by the Central Board on 21st April 2020 and the instruction was circulated vide e-Circular No. NBG/S^P/RECORDS MGT/2/2020-21 dated 22nd May 2020. A separate Data Retention Policy for IT related records was approved by the Central Board in its meeting dated 04.08.2021, which is being merged with the proposed version of the Bank's Policy on Record Retention. Post approval of this Policy, the Data Retention Policy will cease to exist. In terms of the policy statement, the policy needs to be reviewed by the Central Board of the Bank in every three years.

The purpose of this document is to present a high-level policy statement of the Bank regarding retention and preservation of Bank's documents/records, in accordance with the applicable law. This Policy documents state that all necessary documents and records of the Bank are adequately protected and preserved as per the statutory requirements and that the records of the Bank which are no longer required or are of no value are disposed off after following due process. This Policy also envisages the purpose of aiding staff of the Bank in understanding their obligations in retaining and preserving the documents and records which are required to be maintained as per the applicable statutory provisions and regulatory requirements.

A well-defined policy and establishment of a foolproof system for preservation of all records, whether current or non-current, is a prerequisite for effective functioning of an organization, like bank, that is offering variety of services to a multitude of clientele. It is essential to have a proper storage, retrieval and disposal controls of such records, including digital data/records, as the bank deals day in and day out with electronic data and high- risk security documents.

Data retention is a part of an organization's overall Data Management framework, which needs to be retained for its business, legal, regulatory and compliance values. However, accumulating data and storing them indefinitely in the ecosystem can affect the performance of the IT Systems resulting in need for more computing powers and processing overheads. Similarly, retaining data longer than necessary, poses risks of data redundancy, data leakage, data breach etc, for which the Bank as Data Controller / Data Fiduciary, will be held accountable and may violate legal or regulatory requirements as forthcoming Data_Protection and Data Privacy laws prescribe “Right to Forget” and “Right to Erasure”. Therefore, it is necessary to create governance around Data Retention and disposal thereof to maintain optimum level of data to ensure performance efficiency and optimisation of storage capacities.

Therefore, handling of documents/records/data assumes great significance. Periodic review of the policy is necessary to accommodate the new/ revised guidelines issued by the regulatory body/ Government guidelines in regard to the record keeping in Bank. Accordingly, the Policy has been reviewed and a comprehensive Policy has been formulated containing all the related aspects.

However, these are the minimum periods for which records have to be retained. Records may be retained longer where special circumstances so warrant such as in case of suit filed cases, fraud cases, disciplinary cases, etc. Vital documents such as Memoranda to Local Board will, however, be retained permanently, Various types of Records are retained by the Bank. Some of those Records are very crucial and important while a few of the Records may not be so crucial and important. Normally importance of any Record is associated with different factors like frequency of its requirement in relation to complaints, Court Cases, RTI Queries etc. Therefore, while the operational unit holding/retaining the Records, it should be categorised in three risk bucket viz, High Risk, Medium Risk and Low Risk depending on the nature of the Record. Accordingly, suitable priority to be assigned to various categories of Records while holding/preserving/retaining the same.

Broader guidelines in regard to classification of records into High, Medium and Low Risk category is as below.

Medium Risk records are like Loan Application received and disposal Register, Non-Performing Asset Register, Account Transfer Register etc.

iii) Low Risk Records are those records the loss of which will cause slight inconvenience or difficulty in operational performance of function or activity area. Recovery from such consequences would be handled quickly without the need to divert resources from the core activity area. The records which do not bear much of risk factor in their safe keeping like System generated reports, various registers which are used on day-to-day basis in regular banking operations like Customer Contact Register, Community Services Banking Register, Customer Call Register etc.
