POLICY ON DEPOSITORS' RIGHTS

VERSION: 2.0

1. PREAMBLE

One of the important functions of the Bank is to accept deposits from the public for the purpose of lending. In fact, depositors are one of the major stakeholders of the Banking System. The depositors and their interests form the key area of the regulatory framework for banking in India and this has been enshrined in the Banking Regulation Act, 1949. Reserve Bank of India (RBI) is empowered to issue directives / advices on interest rates on deposits and other aspects regarding conduct of deposit accounts from time to time. With liberalization in the financial system and deregulation of interest rates, banks are now free to formulate deposit products within the broad guidelines issued by RBI.

RBI has advised Banks to formulate a transparent and comprehensive policy setting out the rights of depositors in general and small depositors in particular. The policy is required to cover all aspects of operations of deposit accounts, charges leviable and other related issues to facilitate interaction of depositors at branch level. The policy is also required to be explicit in regard to secrecy and confidentiality of the customers. Accordingly, this policy document on deposits outlines the guiding principles in respect of formulation of various deposit products offered by the Bank and terms and conditions governing the conduct of account. This document recognizes the rights of depositors and aims at dissemination of information with regard to various aspects of acceptance of deposits from the members of the public, conduct and operations of various deposits accounts, payment of interest on various deposit accounts, closure of deposit accounts, method of disposal of deposits of deceased depositors, etc., for the benefit of customers. It is expected that this document will impart greater transparency in dealing with individual customers and create awareness among customers of their rights. The ultimate objective is that the customers will get services they are rightfully entitled to receive without demand.
