There is no bus shelter at Arasavalli temple where devotees and tourists wait on the road for buses and autos

ALTHOUGH Srikakulam municipality was upgraded to a municipal corporation and the city was selected by the State government as a Smart City, it is unfortunate that there is only one bus shelter in the town.

City buses operated by the APSRTC and private players ply buses between Srikakulam and Amadalavalasa railway station and from Srikakulam to Sreekrumam via Arasavalli temple. Shockingly, there is no bus shelter at Arasavalli temple where devotees and tourists wait virtually on the road under the hot sun for buses and autos. With soaring mercury levels, the people face a tough time waiting on the roadside. With no alternative, passengers wait under the shade of nearby shops and other business points near the bus stops. Although the city buses shuttle between Amadalavalasa railway station and Srikakulam old bus stand, they cover several junctions in the city such as Adivarampeta, Balaga, Hospital Road, RTC complex, Day and Night Junction, Rama Laxman Junction, Surya Mahal Junction, Women's College Junction, Mill Junction and Old Bus Stand where the people wait for city buses. Except at the Day and Night Junction near the Forest office, there is no bus shelter at any other junction in the city.

"I have a vegetable and grocery shop at Amadalavalasa. I commute between Amadalavalasa and Srikakulam daily to purchase vegetables and other grocery items from the wholesalers," S Jagannadham, a kirana merchant from Amadalavalasa, said. "With no bus shelters in the city, I wait at the nearby shops for the bus. Similarly, several students, office-goers, wage workers and traders face same problems by waiting on the roads for the buses," he added.

Srikakulam APSRTC deputy CTM K Sreenivasa Rao said, "In association with HUDCO, we constructed over 20 bus shelters at various places in the district. As we have no place for constructing bus shelters in the city limits, we couldn't construct the bus shelters," he said. He added, "If civic officials provide space, we will construct bus shelters."

KIDNEY TRANSPLANT CASE Probe panel to file report in a week

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Visakhapatnam

THE three-member committee constituted to investigate the illegal kidney transplant case will submit its report in a week. The illegal kidney transplant incident was reported after the donor filed a complaint against the members involved in the transplant procedure cheated him of payment as promised.

For the preliminary investigation, the committee is preparing a questionnaire to query the hospital management. As the hospital has a previous history of conducting 10 to 12 organ transplants in 2018, the committee will check on how many illegal transplantations were conducted by the hospital previously.

We will look into how the team, including doctors, forged the documents before conducting the kidney transplant and the previous history of the hospital

"We would also look into how the team, including doctors, forged the documents before conducting the kidney transplant and the previous history of the hospital. The report will be submitted in a week," said DMHO committee member Trupati Rao

Tirumala JEO assures water for four months

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Tirumala

THE demand for water has gone up in Tirumala because of increased accommodation and heavy pilgrim flow. Some officials have said that there is sufficient water for 21 days, others till July, as they are drawing water from Kandaluru Reservoir through Telugu Ganga and storing it in Kailasagiri Dam and from there they are supplying it to Tirumala and Tirupati. But, JEO KS Sreenivasa Raju has said that there is water that lasts for four months. There are nearly 1.28 lakh taps in 5,000 rooms and another 2000 rooms have been added recently and the water works department has stopped supply to taps as part of water-saving measures. Also, water works officials are supplying water to the taps which are in common areas.

Dams Gograbham and Akasaganga have totally dried up and Papavinasam Reservoir, twin dams Parupudhara and Kumaradhara dams have some water, but TTD officials have announced that there is water for 21 days. "We have water for four months. In the meantime, we will have rains," said JEO KS Sreenivasa Raju. He said it rains in October and November and some rains are there even in summer. "To some extent, we have natural sources, and apart from water management with the help of state government and Municipal Corporation, water crisis can be overcome," he said.

JP: Direct elections to local bodies panacea for the ills of democracy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Visakhapatnam

LOK Satta founder president Jayaprakash Narayan on Saturday said direct elections to local bodies will be panacea for ills of democracy. Speaking at a roundtable organised by Lok Satta here, Narayan said democracy is now in danger mainly due to present system of elections, which are mostly influenced by money and other social factors.

Narayan said panchayat raj system in the State was weak and it should be strengthened to give impetus to democracy from grass-root level. It was unfortunate that the parties were selecting candidates based on their financial strength and caste and they are least bothered about their abilities and commitment. Though a large number of youth were eager to serve the country there was little room for them in the present political scenario, he said. This trend is not good for the democracy as the elections have become similar to auctions where money plays a vital role, he said. As the governments were spending on welfare programmes and salaries there was not progress in the State, he said. He said it was not good for future of the State as the government had spent ₹20,000 crore to disburse sops to people three months before elections. He said even YSRC had made a lot of promises, which may require ₹50,000 crore to fulfil.

Mother who lost her teenage son 17 years ago gets baby boy through IVF

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Visakhapatnam

THIS Mother's Day is the best one for 35-year-old Dantuluri Jyothi; she delivered a baby boy through IVF after she lost her 17-year-old son in a road accident last year.

Unable to bear the loss, she decided to deliver a baby boy through IVF.

On Saturday, an ecstatic Jyothi and her husband Jaganadham Raju spoke to the media in London IVF, Vizag showing their newborn who was born in February.

According to IVF specialist Dr K Chandra Reddy of IVF London, this is the first case in Andhra Pradesh, which has been managed successfully in spite of several setbacks and challenges faced during the pregnancy.

After a month when Jyothi lost her 17-year-old son Sai Tej Varma, the couple decided to go with the fertility treatment. While Jyothi's first IVF failed with age factors, without losing any hope, they went for another chance and were successful.

"With advanced age, there were many complications in her pregnancy. At 12 weeks of gestation, Jyothi was presented with unexpected rupture of membranes and ultrasound scan confirmed a live baby with no water around the baby and was treated with injections," Dr Chandra Reddy told TNIE.

The couple moved from Vizianagaram to Vizag. It was a like a miracle at around 20 weeks of gestation (5 months), water around the baby started reappearing, which gave hope to the doctors and the family. Jyothi received steroids for the baby's lung maturation at 26 weeks of gestation.

In February 2019, a baby boy was born weighing 1.15 kg.
